KINGSVILLE.

Our young friend, Mr. Claude Pennybacker, although yet a mere boy, is now day telegrapher in Chattanooga.

Miss Annie McKee is now fully under way with her public school and gives, I believe, universal satisfaction. Mrs. Stella McCarty has returned from a protracted visit to Cincinnati and Lexington.

Mr. Carson, our only doc, has sold out his store house and goods and will move soon to the wilds of Casey, where he will pursue the ennobling occupation of a farmer. Mr. McVey is his successor, a clever and wide-awake business man.

The doctors, as you have already noted in your Journal, held lately an interesting professional meeting, at which the terrible typhoid was under discussion. The meetings of the doctors where the interchange of views can only be productive of good.

Miss Gertrude Pennybacker, one of our attractive young ladies, to the delight of her many friends, has returned home from a protracted visit to Little Springs, Chattanooga, Knoxville, &c. In search of health and pleasure. She expresses herself delighted with her visit. Miss Gertie modestly declines to tell of her numerous conquests, but upon being asked about a single one, declines to make any revelations and changes the subject. Miss Mary Quinlan, of Junction City, is now visiting Mrs. Pennybacker. Miss Mary always takes with her, wherever she goes, sunshine and happiness, especially to the favorite one on whom she concentrates her beams.

Kingsville does not believe in boom, consequently has none of her own, but keeps steadily on in her ill-guessed growth to assured greatness. She may yet take within her corporate limits McKinney and Waynesburg and thereby be known as "Greater Kingsville." There is a vast deal of idle capital in the pockets of our thrifty but timid farmers, which might profitably be invested in, say, a corn-cob pipe factory, a broom factory and a clothespin factory. As it is, we have but one, a canning factory, conducted by its proprietor, Mr. W. L. McCarty, very admirably. It has proved a success both to the proprietor and many of the people.

HUBBLE.

Most all of the wheat in this community is threshed and sold at $6 per bushel.

Elder George Gowen's meeting here at the Christian church is drawing large crowds, with 11 additions up to date.

Mrs. Ed Minor in applying anodyne to an aching tooth let some of the medicine reach her throat, which soon parched and swelled it till it became alarming. Dr. Kinnaird was telephoned for and she is now some better, after suffering a great deal.

Mrs. Emma Drye, of Middleborg, is visiting friends in this community. Dr. Herring presented Mrs. Wm. Blanks and Mrs. Hertron Spratt with a fine girl each this week. Miss Florence Bright, of Bedford, Ind., is visiting relatives in this community. Dr. Kinnaird reports Mrs. Newell McQuerry as having fever, though not dangerously ill yet. Robert Hutchinson, of Wayne county, is up looking for a farm. S. Dimbar received a telegram Saturday evening announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Hannibal Jones, at Jamestown. He and Mrs. Lay went at once. Mrs. Mattie Berkley, of Ohio, is in to see her sister, Miss Alice Eubanks, who is thought to be at the point of death now.

A CRITICAL TIME.

DURING THE BATTLE OF SANTIAGO, SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY. The packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Coffee, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists, Stanford, Ky.

Wm. J. Rose has been appointed postmaster at Fritz, Whitley county.

LANCASTER.

The appearance of the Baptist church is being improved by the replacing of the old windows with modern stained glass windows.

A team of mules drawing a wagon load of wheat, the property of T. D. Chestnut, fell over the bank at the iron bridge on the Danville pike Tuesday. The mules were killed and the wagon smashed, but the driver escaped by jumping.

Lieut. Claude Wherritt, whose death was chronicled in the daily papers Tuesday, is some better at this writing. On Tuesday he had a severe hemorrhage and was reported dead, but the bleeding was stopped. He rallied and hopes are now entertained for his ultimate recovery. Other fever patients are improving.

A telegram was received here Wednesday announcing the death in New York of Mr. Abraham Joseph, aged 75 years, of heart disease. Mr. Joseph was the father of Jacob Joseph, our enterprising merchant, Mrs. Ameron Harris, wife of Louis Harris, of this county, died at Lexington yesterday. She was taken there a week ago for treatment. She was a sister of E. B. Allender, of Lexington. Her remains will be interred in that city.

Miss Finnerl, of Richmond, is the guest of Miss Nellie Dillon, Mrs. Charlton Elrod, of Louisville, is visiting her relative, Mrs. Martha Frisbie. Mrs. W. O. Bradley and daughter, Miss Christine, are visiting Mrs. Juliette Rogers. Mrs. Dr. Elkin, of Atlanta, is visiting her sister, Miss Jane Duncan. Robert L. Davidson has returned to his law school in Virginia. Tink Anderson has gone to Anniston, Ala., to accept a position as wagon master in the 11th Ky. regiment. Jacob Joseph is in Cincinnati. Edward Allender, a Lexington merchant, formerly of this place, visited friends here.

We had a circus Tuesday, and several of our farmers were given lessons, which should make them wiser men, but we doubt if it will do so. Two well dressed men had two innocent looking little shells, under one of which was concealed a small pea and several of our citizens endeavored to locate the pea at from $10 to $60 per locate. These wily sharpers succeeded in securing several hundred dollars of Garrard county wheat money. It seems a useless waste of time for the newspapers to warn the people against this kind of swindling, for they invariably capture a victim here; but, perhaps these gentlemen do not take the newspapers, and we would respectfully suggest that they subscribe, as the many columns of good advice published during the course of a year, would more than cover the jadry price they pay for the paper.

DANVILLE. Howard Marrs, late of Thomasville, Ga., has bought out the drug store of Dr. John Debo, at the old Curry stand, and will take charge in a few days. The bank stock belonging to the estate of the late M. D. Logan, sold as follows: 10 shares of the Citizens Nat'l Bank to D. C. Prewitt, at $130; 10 shares of the Farmers National to Thos. McRoberts, at $100; to H. O. Nodles, 10 shares of the Boyle National at $155.50; 10 shares at $158 and seven shares at $100. Cabell Denny bought 10 shares of the National Bank of Lancaster at $101. Advocate.

The annual meeting of the State Bureau of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics was held at the State College Tuesday. The Commissioner was authorized to offer premiums for various colored fowl associations and was further authorized to appoint one person from each Congressional district to meet with the advisory board of the bureau for the purpose of organizing a State Farmers' Association. The sum of $5,000 was appropriated for holding farmers' institutes in 20 counties beginning in November.

AN ENJOYABLE EXCURSION—All Kentucky railroads will sell round trip tickets for one fare during Kentucky's Great Trot at Lexington, Oct. 4 to 15. This is the greatest race meeting in the country, $75,000 in stakes and purses are offered. All the famous horses will be there. The celebrated Bellisted-Ballenberg Band of 40 pieces will give daily concerts, and all the beauty, brains and brawn of the Blue Grass will be on hand.

With a 700,000,000-bushel wheat crop a 2,000,000,000 corn crop and 11,000,000-bale cotton crop, and all the other products of the earth in like proportion, the 75,000,000 of Uncle Sam's children can look forward, without misgivings, to at least one more year of pretty fair living.—Louisville Times.

A Miss McCracken was kissed by a conductor of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. She was awarded $1,050 damage on the ground that she was kissed by the whole company through the conductor as agent.

Frank Armstrong, of Hartwell, Ga., fell from his horse while drunk and had both ears eaten off by hogs.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - SEPT. 23, 1898

W. P. WALTON.

Democratic Nominees for Congress,
HON. G. G. GILBERT,
Of Shelby County.

The president has completed his commission to whitewash the war department in the charges of incompetency and dishonesty made everywhere against it. The stupendous scandals will not down, however, even if the report of this all ready decided committee shall say everything was done in the most approved manner. The people and the suffering soldiers know better and the president needn't try to placate them by a show of virtue, which he hath not. Even at Lexington, Gen. Alger heard some plain talk about the mismanagement of division hospitals. Gen. Wiley strongly denounced the incompetency of the surgeons and asserted that order after order for supplies had been ignored. The general scored Quartermaster Lee at Chickamauga as wholly incapable and characterized medical director Huydenkoper as a horse doctor, with no military training whatever and with no idea of disinfectants. Col. Leonard concurred with the general that Huydenkoper was thoroughly incapable. Surgeon Gen. Sternberg tried to turn the tide of criticism against the mismanagement, but without success. It is related that the fellow Huydenkoper, while practicing his profession of veterinary surgeon at New York, cured a pet dog belonging to Mrs. McKinley and that the president out of gratitude for the noble act, appointed the quack to look after the lives and health of a great army of soldiers. The whole wretched business is a disgrace to the administration and the more the matter is probed the greater grows the disgust and horror that men who answered so quickly and patriotically to their country's call to arms should have been treated worse than dogs, especially by a government that had unlimited means to make them comfortable.

THE framers and advocates of the Goebel election bill claimed that its adoption as a law was absolutely necessary because of proven frauds in the 11th Congressional district, which in the last presidential election especially were many and flagrant. John D. White has for several years inveigled against the rascality of the republican committee and made charges against it that if proven would land the last one of them in the penitentiary and now comes the Hon. John Henry Wilson a willing witness, who testifies as follows: "I think I have been cleaned up lock, stock and barrel. My candidacy shows that the democratic cry of fraud in this section of the State is not to be discredited. If the leaders there will cheat each other they will swindle anybody else and if there be those who think the Goebel bill an unnecessary enactment, let him study the situation in the 11th district and he will be convinced of his error."

THE Porto Rican commission has nearly completed its work while that at Havana has done little or nothing. The evacuation of Porto Rico will be complete in three weeks. At Havana the Spanish commissioners want till Feb. 28, next, to evacuate Cuba and desire that the Spaniards be allowed to march out with all the honors of war. A dispatch says that the American commissioners have taken up their quarters at the Hotel Trocha, where the stars and stripes now float at a cost of $1,400 a day.

SOCIETY in Louisville is to have its long felt want filled. Miss Marie Thaxter, late personal news editor of the Courier-Journal, is to embalm it in a book, which is to give the names of all the society people with their reception days, and so forth. It is claimed for the book that it will do everything to make entertaining so easy that it will become a positive pleasure instead of a bugbear as it sometimes is. Louisville's 400 are to be congratulated that so competent a person has taken the matter in charge.

THE premature and significant talk of a contest by Davison in case Gilbert is elected, indulged in by his organ, the Richmond Paragraph, shows that that is the only hope that its man has of warming a seat in Congress for another two years. Democrats should see that Gilbert's majority is so large that even if a thieving republican congress is elected, which God forbid, it dare not steal the office from him.

THE Hunter faction is said to be kicking because Col. John Henry Wilson, of Barbourville, was defeated for the republican nomination for circuit judge in his district, we are informed by the Louisville Times. Well let 'em kick. It will prove as silly a performance as that credited to Saul in Holy Writ.

The Owensboro Messenger says the democrats are sure to elect nine Congressmen in Kentucky this year.

CONGRESSMAN BAILEY, of Texas, who made the best speech delivered here by anybody during the campaign of 1896, spoke at Chatham, Va., Monday to a vast audience of eager listeners and made it plain that the democrats are going to make the present campaign an aggressive one. He said that in order to escape the just and universal indignation which has been aroused against them by the suffering inflicted upon the volunteer army through the incompetency or the dishonesty of those who have been placed in power, the republicans had searched the congressional records and racked their brains to find some damaging accusation which they can sustain against us. But they have not found it, and they will not find it. The record of the democratic party throughout the last and trying session of congress is absolutely above all criticism, and in the history of this government no minority party ever passed through a war session of congress with so much credit as did the democrats of the present congress. It voted against the war revenue bill because the party believed that there was no necessity to issue interest bearing bonds, considering the condition of the treasury and its wisdom, has been fully vindicated. Mr. Bailey is the leader of the minority in congress and has a way of hitting the opposition in the tenderest spot.

THE republicans ought to declare in their next platform that "we believe in a government by injunction," they resort to such means so often. The rival factions in Louisville are the last to air their troubles in court.

THE latest New York theatrical sensation is a play in which a beautiful actress calmly disrobes on the stage from cloak to corset. It is useless to say it draws like a porous plaster.

POLITICAL POINTS.
Gov. Bradley has made "Gen" Collier a colonel on his staff.

Hon. W. B. Smith, of Madison county, democrat, has declared himself a candidate for Governor and will begin an active canvass soon.

The President is said to be preparing an order which shall exempt from the civil service several thousand offices, which can be filled by republicans.

Dr. V. H. Hobson, a Richmond dentist, has announced his candidacy to represent Madison county in the Lower House of the next General Assembly.

A prominent republican at Vanceburg boasts that $15,000 of Administration money is behind Pugh in the Ninth district congressional race. How much has Davison?

New governors are to be elected in 27 States this fall. Vermont will have the next new governor October 1, elected Sept. 6. Georgia will inaugurate Nov. 1, a governor elected Oct. 5.

John D. White says Judge Boreing favors the repeal of the civil service law and that he (White) will defend the republican platform of 1896. Mr. White says he will give a reward of $50 if a joint debate can be arranged at each county seat in the district during October.

The returns from the republican primary in the 27th judicial district, indicate that Hon. H. C. Eversole, of London, was nominated for circuit judge by a plurality of about 1,500 over Hon. J. H. Wilson, of Knox county, and by a majority of nearly 1,000 over both Wilson and Brown. Eversole carried Laurel by nearly 700.

The anti-Lewis faction in the 3d appellate district are kicking like steers because the Lewis faction has succeeded in securing Judge Jones' consent for Postmaster B. T. Conway, of Lebanon, the most bitter enemy of the anti-Lewis faction, to be chairman of his campaign committee. The enemies of Conway and Lewis are up in arms over the appointment and if some step is not taken to placate them, harmony will not be the by-word of the campaign, and Jones will lose hundreds of republican votes in that end of the district.

A dispatch from Frankfort says that T. J. Hardin, of Owen county, who was defeated by ex-Congressman Breckinridge in 1892 by over 6,000 majority, will probably be nominated for Congress today. His opponent, W. G. Dunlap, of Lexington, is backed by Referee George Denny, of Lexington, and most of the Federal office holders of the district, but as the rank and file of the republicans have it laid up for Dunlap because of his failure to stand by Hunter in the Blackburn-Hunter contest, it is not likely that this support will avail him anything.

The Courier Journal says the issue this fall should be—the one sole issue, the corruption, favoritism, and incompetency of the McKinley Administration during the war with Spain. When we have settled this account we can turn to less pressing matters. The case is the President versus the people; and, if it be stripped of all misleading questions, somebody will be made to answer for as heartless and cruel a misuse of power as has ever been known in the annals of any country. The dead cry out from the dismal swamps to which a selfish and partial administration consigned them. The living owe it to the dead to right the wrong. Let every thing else stand aside whilst the people, true to their country and themselves, do their duty.

THE Hunter faction is said to be kicking because Col. John Henry Wilson, of Barbourville, was defeated for the republican nomination for circuit judge in his district, we are informed by the Louisville Times. Well let 'em kick. It will prove as silly a performance as that credited to Saul in Holy Writ.

The Owensboro Messenger says the democrats are sure to elect nine Congressmen in Kentucky this year.

"The fight is already won," says Secretary Kerr, of the democratic Congressional committee, speaking of the next House of Representatives. "I had thought up to a little while ago that while the republicans would certainly be in the minority, the majority would be composed of all classes of opposition. I feel certain now that we will have a complete democratic majority." He puts down a gain of three from Kentucky, three from Indiana and three from Iowa.

The furniture of the battleships Kearsarge and Kentucky, orders for the making of which, have just been received at the Portsmouth navy yard, is to cost nearly $100,000.

The reorganization of the volunteer and regular army now in contemplation will cause a big reduction in the number of officers. Many of the generals of volunteers will lose their places.

Gen. Breckinridge thinks Surgeon General Sternberg responsible for the bad state in the military camps. Alger sides with Sternberg in putting the blame on commanding officers.

Dr. Senn, who was with the army at Santiago as chief of the operating staff and who has been discharged, sharply criticizes the army administration and says Shafter is either ignorant or arrogant.

At Mammoth Springs, Ark., Mrs. Emily Erwin, wife of a prominent jeweler, shot and instantly killed Dr. Robert S. Blair, a well-known physician, who was trying to force an entrance into her room.

The remains of Miss Winnie Davis will be interred to-day under the auspices of the Confederate Veterans and the Daughters of the Confederacy. The latter have already started a subscription for a handsome monument to her. The funeral will occur at Richmond, Va., and will be a notable one.

Rev. Gregory Doyle, the preacher arrested in Lexington on a charge of conspiring with Prof. J. W. McClure and causing the death of Miss Lydia Bracher, a young girl of Hart county, has been indicted by the circuit court at Munfordville. The trial will take place September 28.

That Colorado corporal who wrote to his mother on the back of a frying-pan and told her the Spaniards couldn't hit a barn door at 200 yards is a truthful and earnest young man who deserves and should have promotion at the earliest available opportunity.

It is remarked by a fatuous contemporary that some of the people who return from the Klondike country come back just as a matter of curiosity to find out what gold looks like.

COLD WAVE COMING.—Mr. John Bright makes this significant suggestion: "If any of your people intend going away to remain over Sunday, they had better take their overcoats and wraps with them."

BIG GOURD.—Elijah H. Beazley has a gourd, which lays over the Lancaster production. It came from the seed of one grown in Georgia and is 30 inches tall and 63 inches in circumference. It will hold about 15 gallons. He has another almost as large.

THERE are honest posts on Mr. Slim R. Cook's farm that have been doing service for over 60 years, and are still sound and good. They were put up by Mr. C. C. Stormes, for years Garrard's richest citizen, and who when a boy was an expert at putting up post and rail fences.

JUDGE BARD in naming the bankruptcy district places Lincoln, Rockcastle, Jackson and Laurel in the 14th; Knox, Whitley, Bell, Harlan, Clay and Letcher in the 15th and Mercer, Boyle and Garrard in the 16th. A bankruptcy referee is to be named for each, which will give the rads another show.

A JURY in Judge Bailey's court fined Banie Sims $5 for striking Lucy Burton three times with a corn knife. The murderous blade was wrapped in cloth or Aunt Lucy would have been sent to kingdom come. The cause of the row was that she raised objection when the Sims woman, who lived at her house, tried to leave owing her 75c.

SHE WON.—John Cogell, of the Highland section, sued his wife for the possession of a cook stove, chest and clock in Squire Singleton's court Tuesday, but Hon. Harvey Helm, as her attorney, beat the old man. Cogell left his wife a year or so ago after treating her badly and running out of money returned to claim the things mentioned above.

WANTS PROTECTION.—Thos. Baker, now confined in jail here for the murder of ex-Sheriff White, has written another pitiful plea to Gov. Bradley for soldier protection at his trial in the Clay circuit court. He says that he will surely be mobbed while being taken back to Clay county if troops are not there to protect him. The governor is further investigating the necessity of sending the soldiers.

FIRE AT DANVILLE.—The telephone brought the news Wednesday morning that Danville was ablaze, but investigation showed that the Brewer livery stable, operated by Churchill Yeager and W. H. Rice, was the only building involved. The fire company responded slowly, but finally got down to good work. Nine horses were imprisoned and the walls of the stable had to be knocked in before they could be gotten out. Eight were saved and one so badly burned he had to be killed. The firm lost its wagonette, omnibus, a couple of glass fronts and a dozen or more buggies. A number of private vehicles were also burned. The building was not greatly damaged and it is fully covered by insurance. Yeager & Rice have $4,000 insurance. The fire caught in the hay loft, but what set it is unknown.

MEXICAN VETERANS.—There were 58 veterans and 14 widows of veterans at the annual reunion of Mexican Veterans at Harrodsburg Tuesday. The welcome address was delivered by Col. Ben Lee Hardin. Gen. E. H. Hobson delivered the response. At 12 o'clock the veterans were invited to partake of a sumptuous dinner of all the delicacies of the season prepared under the supervision of Mrs. J. Creth Robinson, wife of one of the Mexican veterans. Wm. old Bourbon, champagne and everything necessary to make them feel at home were served. They then marched to cemetery and decorated the graves of their comrades. The next reunion of Kentucky Mexican Veterans will be held at Somerset. E. H. Hobson was re-elected president for the seventh time; T. H. Phelps was elected 1st vice president; Robert W. Butler, 2d; Col. J. G. Craddock, secretary, and John W. Phelps, assistant secretary.

Of the six or seven of the old fellows left in this county, only J. L. Bosley and J. T. Harris and their wives attended this reunion. Some of the others are getting too old to travel.

R. D. Hunter had a number of high grade ewes, a mixture of Southdown and Cotswold, which last year were bred to the best Cotswold bucks. He sheared this spring $1.40 worth of wool from each ewe. The lambs came during February and the first of March. They were sold at 5c and when delivered June 24th, weighed 100 pounds; as the lambs numbered a few more than one to the ewe, the surplus brought the income, in wool and lambs, up to $6.50 for each ewe.—Winchester Democrat.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The teachers of the Waynesburg magisterial district held their first association in the Baptist church at that place Saturday, Sept. 17. Promptly at 10:30 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Supt. Singleton. After singing the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Singleton.

M. E. Wheeldon in his usual pleasing manner made the welcome address, which was followed by a response from Lucien Lewis, fairly captivating the entire audience.

The subject: Resolved "That the United States Should Annex Hawaii and the Philippines" was ably discussed by Messrs. Swearingin, Curtis, Gooch and Young, the judges deciding in favor of the negative. After singing another hymn the meeting adjourned for dinner. In justice to the good ladies of Waynesburg and vicinity, I will say that they had dinner on the ground good enough for a king, and to a person no better versed in culinary affairs than the writer, there seemed to be no end to the good things in this line. After dinner Prof. C. B. Marcus, of Pulaski, gave a very interesting talk on the subject of "Attendance." He is a firm believer in every district having a library of choice books.

Misses Lola Hiecks, Minnie Embanks and others gave some very able talks on the subject of "Geography, and How To Teach It."

Taking it all in all, it was by far the best attended association ever held in the county. The people of Waynesburg are fully alive to the interests of public education. They see in the public schools lie the hope of our country. The next association will be held at Kingsville the 4th Saturday in October.

Resolutions were passed complimenting the work of Supt. Garland Singleton for the cause of education; thanking the Baptist church for the use of its building; the people of Waynesburg for their hospitality, and Miss Eva Gooch for her assistance in making music a feature of the occasion.

IMMORTALITY.

Written by Rev. Geo. O. Barnes
When Death Seemed Near.

(CONCLUDED FROM LAST ISSUE.)

Matt. xv:10-20 lets us into this mystery of life and death, if we will but ponder its unsavory teaching, however humiliating to our pride; and not close our eyes to patent facts. But the truth is, we are all persistently shutting our eyes. We array our poor bodies in garments, spotless from the laundry, and conveniently forget the sad lesson of the wash-tub, and its covered up secrets. We misquander before high heaven, and pretend to know nothing of these pitiful facts of every day life, and that all the resources of science are exhausted to keep us from perishing in our own filth; and affect ignorance of the origin of "sewer gas," and seem to know nothing of whence come the seed beds of the horrible microbes that infest our filthy earth, and frighten us, in the unpronounceable terms with which science describes them.

All this is loathsome and disgusting, but truth ought to be known and told, if not at all times, surely, sometimes. I am attempting to account for this 150 pounds of waste matter that comes and goes. Of course it is, originally, from its "Father, the Devil." He is the proprietor of all the filth that has come into this world of God. His title of "Beeze-bub" means "god of dirt" or "filth-god;" he is the "Author and Finisher" of all pollution. And he it is who has fastened upon the perfect body and perfect soul, with which God originally endowed us, the fungous growth, where the seeds of death run riot in rapid propagation. "The law of the Spirit of Life," within me, wages ceaseless warfare with this "law of the Spirit of death;" and that explains the phenomena of facts that all are acquainted with. We cover up this struggle for life in every way possible. We spread costly viands on exquisite tables and make our gathering there a festivity. Stripped and bare, it is the old fight for life, as coarse and common as the gnawing of a crust, to keep poverty's soul and body together. We must eat or die—that is the plain English of it.

And so we go on. Even as "gay apparel" is made the occasion of pride and ostentation; not remembering that when the bed-rock fact comes to light, clothing is a badge of our original sin and disgrace, whether a fig leaf or a product of some costly loom. We make our shame our glory. "Pity 'tis too true."

But this 150 pounds that constitute the "earthly house of our tabernacle;" that must be "put off;" that fills a coffin; that makes a burial; that is eaten of worms; that must be "buried out of our sight"—so loathsome is the spectacle of its corruptibility—is that all of our bodies? No; thank God; there remains His body, perfectly distinct from "this vile body;" and "dissolution" only sets us free from that in us, and on us, that Satan has fastened upon what God made perfect. The Devil's portion goes to him. God's portion goes to Him. The separation is final and complete. We "put on" a glorified body—"clothed upon," by Jesus' own hand. We "put off" Satan's hideous excrecence, no more to know it; or be disgraced; or tormented; or disgusted; or disgraced by it, forever. How strange, that any should not choose this "better portion." Still the wailing question comes from the grieved heart of our Savior-God; "why will ye die?" and still the loving exhortation is echoed with unwearied persistence; "choose life that ye may live."

With the above facts before us, it need not stumble any, that Saint and sinner seem to die alike and be buried alike. "We walk by faith and not by sight;" and if we can believe in the wilfully sundered destinies of the souls of unbelievers and believers—so alike in death—why do we deny the same difference of destinies between bodies? Let us never forget that there is enough of the Devil, in and on any of us, to fill a coffin and furnish a "funeral." The great question is: "What saith the Scripture?"—not what our senses take cognizance of. We are to believe what God says—not what our eyes tell us.

There is a still more serious aspect of this subject than the personal loss each one sustains who succumbs to the "last enemy"—death. Of course, we more readily dwell upon what affects us. But what of the deep dishonor we put upon our God, by consenting to die? Think of the costly provision He has made for the complete deliverance of "Spirit, Soul, and Body" from their present thralldom. Christ the Lord went "in Spirit" to the place of lost spirits, for us—that our spirits might never go there. His soul "descended into hell" that our souls might never sink into its awful depths. His body lay in the grave that our bodies might not lie there. Surely, the analogy of faith, and "Christ for us" teaches us this as the A. B. C. of true Christianity. No better answer can be given to the question: "Why are we not damned?" than this: "Christ was damned for us." And His damnation covered "Spirit, Soul, and Body" that my Spirit, Soul, and Body" might not perish, but have everlasting life. The logic of faith is inexorable; "that we might have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to the hope set before us in the gospel."

Now think, dear reader, what will happen if you disappoint God's wish for you. You grieve your Father's heart. You compel the loving Savior to care for your scattered spirit, soul, and body; as if He had not had trouble enough, caring for them while united, on earth. You drag the Holy Ghost, who has made your body His "temple," down to the dark and noisome grave, to keep watch and ward over you, till the resurrection of the last day." Never fear that He will fall. He abides in that body of yours, not as a transient guest, but "forever." Never fear that Jesus will "leave or forsake" you. But the question is: "How can you do this mighty wrong to the blessed Godhead?"

I do not, for a moment, suppose that the mere technical belief in the doctrine of an escape from death, will secure exemption from that dread close of earthly existence. And I do rejoice to believe that many who were not aware, through false teaching, of the blessed privilege belonging to them, secured it by a "walk with God." But that does not militate against the importance of an intelligent and definite belief in our Savior's word: "He that liveth and believeth on me shall never die." There will be an immense difference, when we meet Him, between the surprise of rapture, showing that we were not expecting it; and the joyful expectancy of it—showing that we believed the dear Lord's word, and were looking for its fulfillment. The former condition will have, at least, a tinge of "ashamed before Him at His coming;" while the latter will refresh His heart of love, as faith ever does. For without faith it is impossible to please God." It honors Him more, even, than love; though in the catalogue of graces that he esteemed the "greatest." Think well, dear reader, whether you will choose to say, when you meet the Lord: "Dear Master, I was not expecting this; though now that you are here, I am glad to see you;" or: "Lord I looked for you; I knew you would come for me; and I am so happy to see you, and be with you."

I had a dear friend and brother, who lately "departed to be with Christ." Just before he breasted his last, he called his wife to his bedside and said: "Wife! don't think my mind is wandering. It never was clearer than at this moment; I saw the Lord Jesus, Himself, standing in that doorway a moment ago." And then he passed "within the veil." His wife—a godly, truthful woman—told me this. Do I believe he saw His Savior? Certainly, I do. Do I believe that Savior's word: "I will come again and receive you to myself, that where I am ye may be also?" Assuredly, I do. He will not dispatch an angel cohort to escort us to His presence. He will come, illuminated, for us.

You have, perhaps, often heard of "happy death beds." It is a misnomer, but the experience is a genuine one, in full accord with the one described above. Time and again it has been testified that the departing saint seemed to see something or some one; and the "fashion of the countenance" would be changed instantaneously, and irradiated with joy unutterable. The eye saw, plainly, what the lip had no power to speak; and gazing thus, in rapt ecstasy, the "happy spirit took it flight from its clay tenement" to "farther worlds on high." I do not doubt these exhibitions of celestial visions, for a moment. They agree with Scripture and are in harmony with the bilious facts that accompany "dissolution." But I am a confirmed sceptic as to "happy death beds;" while I am a firm believer in happy "dissolutions."

In conclusion let me give a practical direction as to the attainment of this great blessing. It is a vague exhortation to say "only believe." In our weakness, perhaps, we ask for something more definite and tangible. I will give it, from Scripture. Notice, that Jesus in John xi, asks of Martha, touching this very point: "Believest thou this?" He will ask it of you, every time you think of the subject. See that you answer "Yes." At first, it may be a hesitant and feeble response. But once planted, will grow. If He asks you a thousand times this question, then, a thousand times make answer "Yes Lord!" And you will find that the faith that seemed at first "the smallest" of all your virtues will grow apace, till it overshadows all else in the garden of your heart; and others, who were once unbelievers; like the birds of the air that sought lodgment in the branches of the great mustard tree, will come to you for guidance and help in also gaining what you have; and, perhaps, in time, you will even say, with holy Paul, in 2 Cor. viii, "We know, that when the earthly house of this tabernacle is dissolved, we have a building of God," which, unlike this transitory wayside inn, is "eternal in the heavens."
